

Questions Radio Transcript

(A subtle sarcastic tone underpins this delivery)

Announcer:

Does the idea being controlled appeal to you?

Does having lesions in your mouth excite you?

Do find stained yellow teeth attractive?

And, does the idea of paying for the increased chance of getting lip, gum, throat and esophagus cancer sound like a really fine idea?

Then the boys at big tobacco, who make dip and chew loaded with nicotine and 23 carcinogens, would very much like to have you hooked. Dip is no safer than cigarettes and its addictive powers are a real monster.
